

they also show the president's commitment to ensuring that UGA's students have access to state-of-the-art facilities. It is "a place of the quality to which we aspire should look the part," as he has said.

Dr. Adams has also overseen the construction of the Paul D. Coverdell Center for Biomedical and Health Sciences, a new Lamar Dodd School of Art, an expansion of the Georgia Museum of Art, and the first new residence halls on campus in more than 30 years, the East Campus Village.

There has been an expansion of the infrastructure and physical footprint under Dr. Adams, and he has also directed an increase in growth and diversity of the academic program. Five new colleges or schools have been established during his tenure: the School of Public and International Affairs, the College of Environment and Design, the College of Public Health, the Eugene P. Odum School of Ecology, and the College of Engineering. Additionally, the UGA Health Sciences campus on the former campus of the U.S. Navy Supply Corps School houses the College of Public Health, as well as the Georgia Regents University-University of Georgia Medical Partnership, granting medical degrees in Athens for the first time.

Understanding, appreciating, and sharing the passion with which Georgians cheer for the "Dawgs," Dr. Adams has also made sure that UGA athletics continue the tradition of fielding the most gifted and dominant teams and athletes in the country. UGA athletes have won 27 national championships, 58 Southeastern Conference titles, and 125 national individual titles while Dr. Adams has been president. He also understands that the balance between academics and athletics is not a zero-sum game but that each plays a unique role in defining the identity of the university.

Dr. Adams has been an outstanding leader of this institution. During his tenure, he has personally or on behalf of the university received more than 50 awards in higher education, including the Knight Foundation Award for Presidential Leadership and the James T. Rodgers Award, the highest honor bestowed by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools.

I would like to thank and recognize University of Georgia president Michael F. Adams for his extraordinary service to the University of Georgia and our great State.●

REMEMBERING HENRY T. "HANK" WILFONG, JR.

● Ms. LANDRIEU. Mr. President, as chair of the Senate Committee on Small Business and Entrepreneurship, I join the small business community throughout our country in mourning the death of Mr. Henry T. "Hank" Wilfong, Jr., president of the National Association of Small Disadvantaged Businesses, NASDB. Mr. Wilfong was a valued partner in promoting, improving, and increasing opportunities for firms owned by socially and economically disadvantaged individuals. He not only was a CPA, with an MBA from UCLA, he also served in a number of capacities for Presidents, Governors, and local municipalities. Most notably, Mr. Wilfong was the first Black Pasadena City Councilman. He was also a three-time Presidential appointee, which included the Small Business Administration's Associate Administrator of the 8(a) Program. Later, he founded NASDB, a trade organization representing over 300 minority, women-owned, service-disabled, veteran-owned, and HUBZone small businesses.

Whether it was his advocacy for parity among the set-aside programs or his passion for strengthening the women-owned small business and 8(a) Programs, we have all been touched by his legacy, which promotes equal opportunity for all small businesses to succeed and live the American dream of entrepreneurship. With his passing, we also lose a U.S. Army Korean War veteran. He was a fighter his entire life, and we are all grateful for his service to our country, both in the military and as an advocate. Our deepest condolences go out to his family and all those whose lives he touched. We will greatly miss Hank Wilfong, Jr., who served as the voice for so many small businesses that deserved to be heard.●
